Minden area residents attend meeting

Public speaks out over hospital hours

by Andrew Milne

Members of the public protesting service reductions at Minden Hospital made for a sometimes raucous meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board last Friday.

The slightly heated exchange followed comments from board member Doug Campbell, on the subject of an increase to usage statistics for the Minden emergency ward — (see related story.)

Some board members were also critical of the decision to run a physiotherapy service at Haliburton location while cutting emergency service in Minden.

The board is considering reducing service at the Minden facility to 12 hours, due to budget constraints.

One member of the group told the trustees, "If you take the hospital out of Minden, you're going to make Minden a ghost town. All the seniors are going to move out. There will be a lot of jobs lost in the community as well. We're all going to congregate down in the big city, when we've got all this beautiful area up here in which to live. That's what you're encouraging." The delegation included Peter and Chris Dollo, Gord Monk, Roy Windover, and Paul Hopkins among others.

Another suggested, with some anger, that though the western regions of the county, served by Minden's catchment area, have a significant population and demonstrated need for the hospital services, that "all the money seems to be flowing the other way."

Chair Hugh Nichol responded in a raised voice, implying some frustration, that the board understands the difficulties, but that the priority has to be continuing with the capital plans, and surviving to get that far.

Nichol also said that the board is committed to continuing with services at both the Haliburton and Minden sites, and invited any board members who don't feel this way to leave.

Said Nichol, "You're right. This whole area — all of Haliburton County — not just Minden, not just Haliburton — this whole area, including northern Victoria — is suffering economic problems. Businesses are closing. People are leaving." He said others may have been discouraged about locating in the area because of the uncertainty surrounding health care services.

"But we've got to start to construction... So Haliburton and Minden will be better off. If we don't get construction started, it's all over...next year the MOH grant is going to drop by $60,000. The year after it's going to drop again. If we want to survive as an area, what we need to do is get this construction going.

"If there is any intention of any board member here to say we just want one site, then leave this board right now. The intent of this board is to build on both sites within the capital dollars, so that we can all have the services we're talking about.

"We may not be able to afford to do it this winter — to keep it open 24 hours. But we're going to do everything we can... Any delay in building will mean certain problems and debt."

"Can you tell me what the problem is?" asked a member of the audience.

"The problem is," said Nichol, "we spend too much time talking, and too little time doing. We spend too much time bickering among communities.

"If we don't build — in five years — I'll make a personal prediction — there will only be one, little outpost hospital."

"We have to balance the books, because that's all the money we have... There is nothing personal here, that we are trying to close any particu-

Nicky Armstrong named Terry Fox team member

Nicky Armstrong of Ingoldsby has at least two things to be happy about in her young life. First and foremost, she is a cancer survivor. And secondly, this year Nicky has been named a member of Terry's Team. The designation is an honorary title recognizing her involvement in the goal of the annual Terry Fox Runs, raising money for cancer research.

Nicky was diagnosed with acute lymphocytic leukemia, commonly called ALL, in June of 1992. After a month of daily chemotherapy treatments, the disease was forced into remission. Nicky also underwent radiation treatments. After three years of treatments every two weeks, Nicky was still showing no signs of the disease.

Now, a year after her treatments have been completed, Nicky is an average, healthy nine-

Council purchases land for business park

by Jerry Grozelle

Businesses wishing to locate in Minden will soon have a suitable location.

Anson, Hindon and Minden council held a special meeting September 10 to close a deal on 11 acres of property in Minden.

Councillor Daryl Moore explained that the special meeting was called because the municipality's offer on the property had a 72 hour time limit. The 72 hours would have lapsed before last Thursday's regular council meeting. As it turned out, the owners, John and Patricia White, had received another offer.

"We would have lost it if we'd waited until Thursday," Moore said.

The property fronts on Highway 35 between Newcastle and Prince Streets.

Reeve Jeanne Anthon said the goal is to stimulate economic growth by providing a business park, in which new businesses can locate.

This is an ideal location because of its highway access and the availability of water and sewer services. The area also offers natural buffering around much of the perimeter.

The municipality has been working with a planning consultant, with this goal in mind, for some time. Funds to pay the $88,000 for the property are already in the municipality's reserves.

"Part of the property," Moore pointed out, "is already zoned highway commercial."

To turn the property into a business park will require a change to the municipality's Official Plan. It will also require approval from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs. Public consultation is mandatory before changes can be made to the Official Plan.

Council members agree that the types of businesses which would be encouraged to locate within the park must be environmentally friendly. The site plan process will control such things as sign size, buffering and other aesthetic qualities.

"We won't allow this tourist area to be compromised," Reeve Anthon said.

OPP petition on its way to Toronto

After over a month of collecting signatures throughout the county, the petition seeking the reinstatement of the full Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police has been sent to the office of Victoria-Haliburton MPP Chris Hodgson.

Organizer Lynda Burley sent the weighty package by Priority Post to ensure it is received in a timely manner. "There were 3100 signatures on the document when we tallied them all up," she commented after dropping the envelope off at the post office. She said she knew there could have been more, but she wanted to get the document to Queen's Park as quickly as possible.

As a member of the Cabinet, Hodgson is unable to formally presented the petition to the Legislature, however he has asked a colleague to represent the interests of his constituents in this matter.

"Let's get this thing settled and get it (the detachment) back here," Burley concluded.

Her age, and the fact that she is a girl, meant the odds for a complete recovery were stacked in Nicky's favour.

"Girls have better odds of being cured," said John Armstrong, Nicky's dad.

Treatments were administered at Sick Children's Hospital and John said that after a while, they took the bi-weekly trips to Toronto in stride.

Nicky is in Grade 4 at Archie Stouffer Elementary School. Her mom, Lesley, said she missed most of her Kindergarten year because of her illness. However, Kindergarten teacher Rosanne Hynard visited the home on a regular basis to help Nicky keep up with her classmates.

Recognizing the importance of cancer research, Nicky and her family have been supporting the Minden runs over the past years. One of the organizers, Linda Brandon, approached Nicky and the family about her joining Terry's Team. Nicky and the family were delighted to have been asked. Last year, they all took part and they plan to do the same this next weekend, including Nicky's brother Craig, 14, and sisters Stephanie, 12 and Melissa, 4.

The annual Terry Fox run is slated for Sunday, September 22. In Minden runners will start from the Community Centre between 8 and 10 a.m. A run will also take place in Haliburton on the same date. The starting point is the town dock between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Participants can obtain pledge sheets at area businesses, including The Times office.

Dottie adds one more to her family tree

by Jerry Grozelle

Dot Muirhead has found her missing sister. The Internet played a key role in helping Muirhead and her other sister Tressa Cheney of New Brunswick, find their half-sister, Sharon McGaghey, in Calgary.

A name search on the Internet turned up one McGaghey, Ellen, who has an e-mail address at Concordia University in Montreal. A note to Ellen, asked if she knew of Sharon McGaghey, who was born in St. John, New Brunswick. Ellen replied that she wasn't aware of Sharon but forwarded the query to her father Kevin McGaghey in St. John.

In the meantime, Dot was told that Kevin McGaghey in St. John may have some information. She called her niece, Gina Cheney, whom she had recently met when she went to New Brunswick to meet her half-sister Tressa. Dot asked Gina, who lives in Woodstock, NB, to see if she could find Kevin McGaghey in the St. John telephone book.

Kevin McGaghey told Gina that Sharon is a second cousin of his, but he didn't know where she was. He said that he knew someone with whom Sharon may have kept in touch.

With some research, Kevin was able to provide Gina with Sharon's telephone number.

Last Wednesday, Gina's Mother, Tressa, called Sharon and let her know that she had two half-sisters and informed her of other relatives as well, including Hazel Stuart of British Columbia.

Dot Muirhead's family increased by two last week when, with the help of resources available on the internet, she discovered she had two more sisters.

Back in Minden, Dot Muirhead was contacted by Gina and given Sharon's telephone number. Dot also called her long-lost sister and the two spoke on the telephone about family ties.

Dot says her sister seemed a little overwhelmed with the discovery that she has two sisters. Like Dot, Sharon grew up in a home with a step-parent with whom she didn't get along.

"She ran away from home two months before her sixteenth birthday," Dot said. "We have a lot in common. I ran away three or four times myself."

Dot says she's very happy to have found the family members she has never known. Although Sharon seems apprehensive about the situation, Dot is sure that when Sharon has had some time to think about it, she'll warm up to the fact that she has two sisters she has never met.

"She's a little unsure of the situation," Dot said, speculating that getting phone calls from New Brunswick and Ontario on the same day from two women who claim to be her sisters may be unsettling. With the information Dot and Tressa were able to provide, Sharon has no doubt about the authenticity of the relationship.

Dot and Sharon plan to exchange photographs. Dot says she is looking forward to receiving a copy of a photo of their mother that Sharon managed to save when the rest of her mother's photos were destroyed.

The two women hope to meet in person, but Dot says she doesn't think it will be this year.

Editor's Note: The Internet search initiated by Jerry Grozelle, reporter with The Times, assisted in locating the missing relatives.

Stuart Baker: a man of tact and diplomacy

The county said goodbye to Stuart Baker last week, the former director of education, principal and teacher for the Haliburton County Board of Education. The respected citizen passed away Sunday September 8 after a lengthy battle with cancer.

McKay Brydon, principal of J.D. Hodgson Elementary School in Haliburton spoke at the funeral. "He was a very, very fine man... A great man. He loved kids. He worked hard for his community. I think the over-riding principle of his life was he tried to make everything better, no matter what the situation. He was a great encourager — always encouraging you to do your best."

"He left us wiser, kinder, more caring. People bring different talents and different gifts. That was his gift, at least in my mind, to all of us — not just in education."

"He is a person who will be missed." Brydon worked as a teacher and as vice-principal at schools with Stuart.

Schools throughout the county were let out early last Wednesday to allow staff to attend the funeral. Hundreds were in attendance.

Baker spent most of his entire life connected, in one way or another, to the Haliburton County Board of Education. It was through the local board he received his primary education and in later years returned as a teacher, principal, and, finally, director of education.

He began his teaching career at the Scotch Line school in Minden. He was later principal of the Lakeview School in Haliburton, then principal of Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden, before being appointed director of education.

Community minded, and always an active participant, Baker is also well remembered as a hockey player, a sportsman, and, after his retirement, as a member and chairman of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board.

Descriptions of Baker by friends and co-workers inevitably run to superla-

Bonnie Berry worked for Baker in her first year of teaching, at the Lakeview School. Later, retired temporarily from teaching, she served as chair of the board of education, while Baker was director.

Berry describes Baker as "Wonderful. Supportive. Always encouraging. Always positive. A wonderful mentor."

As director, says Berry, "One of his many strengths was his diplomacy. His tact. He was always the mediator — always gracious in any situation. He was an excellent director."

"He had a great belief in the values that Haliburton County has. Pride in its own. Family. Community... For those of us who knew him, there was a great deal of sadness in our schools this week. And I think even in the whole community. He lived in the community, really became involved with this community. I find (more on page 4)

Board wrestles with where to cut

lar facility... So can we leave this issue for now?"

There were actually two bright points for supporters of the Minden hospital during the meeting — hospital use statistics showing increased usage at the facility, and July budget numbers that were surprisingly good. Board finance committee members had been predicting a much deeper deficit, due to increased costs during the summer.

Their fears, however, were not realized. The budget numbers that came through — perennially late, from St. Joseph's of Peterborough, which still does the books — were $80,000 better than they'd expected. Even with receipts the board knows haven't gone through yet — in the amount of $20-$30,000 — the books are still at least $50,000 ahead, at a time they should have been at their worst.

Board members expressed cautious optimism, and praised the actions of hospital administrator Foster Loucks, as the determining factor in cutting costs and maintaining services.

Before the meeting ended and over protestations from some members that once again, the board will be leaving critical service delivery decisions to the last minute, the board refused to commit to maintaining 24 hour service in Minden for the coming months. It decided, to leave the decision until the next board meeting, when the August budget numbers will be available.

Says Nichol, "If the trend continues, and we're still ahead, of course we damn well will be keeping Minden open through the nights. But I want to see the figures first."

Physiotherapy versus emergency care?

Board members also tangled briefly over the fact that physiotherapy services continue to be provided at the Haliburton Hospital, when it's considering the reduction of the hours of the Minden emergency ward.

Board members Doug Campbell and Ted Wilkes both touched on the subject, though they did not limit their comments to the physiotherapy program.

Said Wilkes, "If we're going to be discussing this (reducing Minden emergency service) at the next meeting, I think we really should have all the options on the table. If we find we've got a deficit, let's look at all the possibilities. We shouldn't just be saying we should cut the emergency services when there may be other things we could be doing... I'm not saying physiotherapy isn't important. But it doesn't save lives."

Nichol responded by saying that the difficulty is with the operating plan — a document filed with the Ministry of Health, that states what services the board will deliver. It does say the HHHS will do physiotherapy. It does not say it will deliver 24 hour service in Minden through the winter.

Critics responded however that when St. Joseph's had to close Minden's beds, against their own operating plan, they were able to do so.

Chief of staff Norm Bottum also protested that physiotherapy services are in no way a frill.

Said Bottum, "I feel the suggestion that we cut physiotherapy was made in a frivolous way, and I don't want to see it brought up again unless we can have a serious discussion on the subject... Physiotherapy provides the service for seniors, for low income people, people on welfare who would not be able to pay for private physiotherapy services, and who would not qualify for homecare. Homecare physiotherapy is very limited... It's great that we have private physiotherapists here, but it's an example of a two-tier service."

Restructuring meeting date changed to Monday evening

The Haliburton County Restructuring Committee meeting is scheduled for today, Monday, September 16, at the County Building in Minden, not September 17, as stated in last week's paper. The meeting will start at 7 p.m.

Community mourns passing of former director of education that many of the parents of the children I now teach remember him, because a lot of them came through the system when he was principal."

Closing the schools for the half day, says Berry, "was a measure of the respect people had for him."

"There was another side of him too that not everyone got to see — the fun loving side. He enjoyed life and was a lot of fun to work with. Always interested in people, he really made you feel he cared about you."

Foster Loucks, executive director of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board, knew Baker both from his earlier years, and remembered him as a hockey player on the Haliburton Huskies. Later, Loucks knew Baker through his involvement with the board.

"His passing, I feel as a personal loss... He was really a great man, in the sense that we all need certain examples in our community. If you need people around you who are examples just in the way they go about things, in terms of their civic-mindedness, just in terms of the way they view the world or appreciate life, he had a lot of those qualities. "I say that sincerely. There aren't a lot of people around like that. As just one person he touched, he gave me that sense. He put the community first. We need more of those people in our lives."

Stuart Baker was 61. He is survived by his wife Dorothy, son Stephen and family and daughter Jennifer.

The connection between the availability of health care services and the viability of a community has long been a given. It is difficult for one to survive without the other. The knowledge of this connection has always been lurking in the background as the future of health care in the Highlands, and particularly on the western half of the county (and northern portion of Victoria and Peterborough counties), has been discussed.

The case for the importance of the two factors was reinforced again last Friday at the regular meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board. The citizens appearing before the board made an impassioned plea for the continuation of 24 hour emergency services at the Minden Hospital. They predicted that anything less would be devastating to a large portion of the Haliburton Highlands, an area already hurt by economic instability. They pointed out that the attractiveness of this area as a retirement haven would be greatly diminished without this basic level of medical service.

Interestingly, the Minden Hospital-use statistics for the past few months do indicate that the service, as it is presently being provided, is exceeding most expectations. They reinforce the idea that the service provided through the facility is indeed crucial to the residents of the area.

An emergency department open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, is the most important service the health board can provide this community. Not only is it vital to the physical well-being of the area residents, it is crucial to the economy of the community as well. This is not a new message, but it is encouraging to see citizens taking up the challenge, ensuring that those who make the decisions know about their concerns.

Stuart Baker

Teacher, educator and administrator; sportsman, neighbour and friend; Stuart Wesley Baker will be missed in the Haliburton Highlands.

He was a man of many abilities who touched the lives of thousands throughout the area. As mentioned during the funeral service Wednesday, perhaps his greatest gift to the community, was his ability to inspire others to strive for something better in their lives. It was that quality, no doubt finely honed at the head of a class, which made him an effective leader within the community. He will be missed.

Fear, frustration and fury

Editor:

I feel I must vent my fear, frustration and fury. Everyone is just waiting for an accident to happen to a school kid due to lack of school bus transportation.

Well, I've come as close as I could imagine possible without it actually happening. I was driving to work in Minden today, 12 noon, (parents make note of the day—maybe it was your son!). It was the day of Stuart Baker's funeral and kids were off early. From the bridge in Minden all the way to the school, the sidewalks were cluttered with kids on and off bicycles. Therefore I was driving slowly and cautiously. It was a good thing I was being careful, because if I hadn't been someone would be less a son and a kid would have lost his life.

The boy was maybe 9 or 10 years of age, wearing a cap, no helmet, lime green T-shirt and shorts. He came down the steep, grassed hill near the school. He couldn't go any faster, I'm sure, right out onto the road. I couldn't believe it. How stupid could a kid be. He saw me coming and didn't even try to stop. Unbelievable!. He was looking right at me and was laughing.

It was a good thing no one was driving behind me to rear-end me after braking so hard. It is also a good thing that no one was coming from the other direction while the kid was looking at me.

Maybe someone should introduce the idea of road awareness regarding bicycles for kids, now that more of the kids are cycling to school.

More of the school board's money must be spent on education as well as improving road conditions in the winter, etc. It seems to me that maybe they should just keep the school bus system in tact, instead of spending money elsewhere, and try to keep kids safe on the roads. They can't do much about the wildlife though, can they? Someone should do a cost comparison between cutting school buses vs. increased costs for safety.

A county airport?

Editor:

How long can Stanhope Township afford to be in the airport business? Stanhope is a sparsely populated township without a village. An airport deficit budget is difficult to digest.

Federal and provincial grants are either non-existent or dwindling...so what's next, a part-time airport with reduced hours?

It's a convenient little airport for the Ministry of Natural Resources, med-evac, and local flyers coming from all parts of the county. Why not make it a county airport? Sometimes a county can afford it when a township cannot.

Who cares?

Editor:

I am not sure if I am more upset about the Board of Education cuts to the transportation or the fact that the majority of parents who are affected are not doing anything about it.

On the 30th day of August, I found out that my daughter's bus route was cancelled. On the same day, I heard there was a meeting between parents and the board three days prior. I phoned the Board of Education to confirm this. It was true! Only eight parents attended and only 14 letters were written. Where is everybody? Were they all in the dark with me or were they just busy that night?

I would rather my property taxes or income taxes go up a small percent than have the expense of insuring, maintaining and running a second car. I do not want to pay the price of losing my six-year-old daughter to a bad driver or being abducted by some "nut".

The Board of Education will now have 15 letters to read and hopefully more to come.

Thank you

Editor:

Many thanks for the nice comments Mary and I have received for my past editorial cartoons and for my recent regrets expressed about my "second" retirement, particularly for the flattering remarks by The Times staff and those of Penny and Bill Obee. Thanks folks.

It seems I've managed somehow to graphically add a little something to the excellent Times journalism.

I've always envied some of my fellow cartoonists their skill at managing to say what they want in a few well-chosen lines. I've always felt compelled to blunder along (and I do mean 'blunder') the hard, time-consuming way without being fully satisfied with the outcome.

The years haven't proved easy, especially on tensed-up neck muscles. At present they, not me, are insisting on a good rest, but who knows, later they might allow me to offer something to The Times on a casual basis...The Times willing, of course.

Anyway, I'll leave the door ajar just a little. Thanks again, fans

Phyllis Diller

When Sears comes out with a riding vacuum cleaner---then I'll clean the house.

Roseanne Barr

Ah housework--the bane of everyone's life. Endless hours of dreary drudgery, picking up socks and dusting furniture. Mopping floors and cleaning sinks and toilets. Housework is boring, repetitive, unchallenging, mind-numbing....

Or maybe not.

Take the case of Louise Rafkin. Louise is a bespectacled, studious looking middle-aged woman who lives and works near Cape Cod Massachusetts. When she speaks, she does so with a cultured, dignified air. She chats easily about French post-modernist authors and up-and-coming Afro-American writers. If you met her on the street you might guess that she was a professor of something or other--and you wouldn't be far wrong.

Just a little out of date.

Louise Rafkin used to be an academic. She has an MA in comparative literature. She was a lecturer at the University of Auckland, New Zealand and a full professor at UCLA. Louise Rafkin was a gifted thinker with a rosy future in the Groves of Academe. Her mother was extremely proud of her. There was just one tiny problem: Louise hated it. She spent all day discussing literary aesthetics with other academics and students, then went home to spend an evening marking papers. "I really don't think I was a very good teacher," she says, "so I stopped."

But her bills didn't. And neither did the mortgage on her house.

So Louise Rafkin, academic, became Louise Rafkin, charwoman. Chucked the robes and treatises and the scholarly afternoon teas for the buckets, mops, brooms and vacuum cleaners.

Her colleagues--not to mention her mother--were appalled. But Louise Rafkin loved her new life. And she was very, very good at it. "I am thorough and fast and I enjoy leaving a clean house behind. I keep my own house pretty darn neat."

She liked the money too. Because she is efficient, she makes $45 (US) an hour. "As much as a good mechanic or a bad therapist," she says. And she is picky about the people she accepts as clients. "No families with kids or dogs. Outdoor cats only. Absolutely no litter boxes."

Louise also loves the "espionage" element of cleaning other people's houses. She gets to peek into strangers' lives and learns a surprising amount about them. "I know who is having sex with whom. (Condoms in the bathroom, stray hairs on the pillow). I know who is not having sex (separate beds, separate bedrooms). I find bottles "hidden" behind the washer...I find wastebaskets littered with crumpled lottery tickets."

Is she a good housecleaner? After six years on the job, Louise Rafkin thinks so. "I deliver a clean house, at a fair price and always show up when I say I will. I don't steal, and unless I am mad for some justifiable reason, I won't hide things so my clients won't find them."

Then of course, there's the book. Old habits die hard--even academic ones. Louise is about to publish a book tentatively entitled Dust to Dust: A Cleaning Odyssey.

It could become a best seller. Who knows? We can all relate to house cleaning, and Louise Rafkin has found a way to make the dreary fascinating.

I'll guarantee you one thing: If the book does take off and Louise becomes a celebrity; if she makes appearances on Letterman and gets invited on international book tours--even if she sells the movie rights and becomes fabulously rich on royalties, there's one thing I'm absolutely certain of.

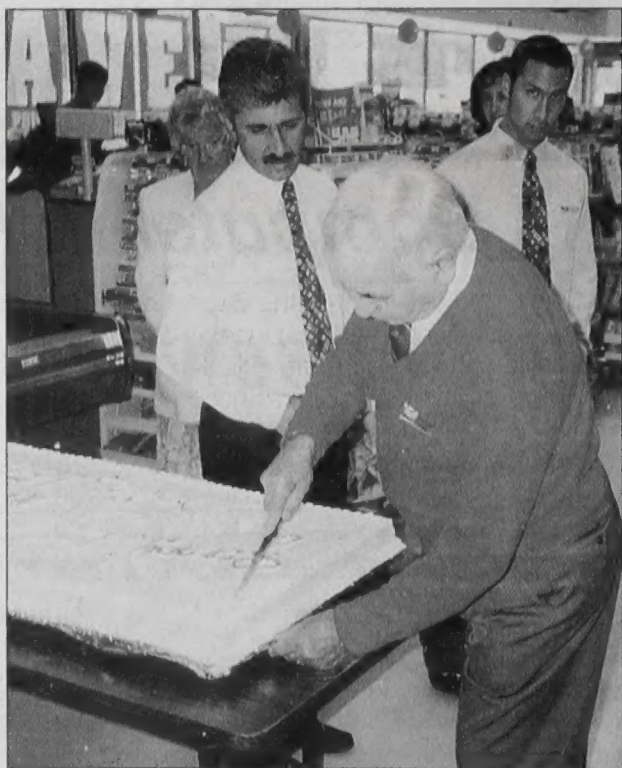

She won't be hiring anybody to clean her house.

Dollo's IGA marks 50 years

This past week marked the beginning of a year of celebration for the Dollo family in Minden. The occasion was the start of their fiftieth year of serving the community. From a small main street fruit stand, opened following the war by Pete and Joe Dollo, the business has grown to a full service grocery store at the corner of Main Street and Highway 35. Now, three generations are involved in the store. Peter continues to manage the produce section of the store while his son David, his wife Diane and their children Jamie and Kelly share other management responsibilities. This past week, Dollo IGA customers were thanked for their loyalty with special treats throughout the store, including slices of a number of birthday cakes, like the giant one above. In the photo at the top of the page family members standing behind the cake include, from the left, Jamie and his wife Sonja, Peter and Chris, Diane, David and Kelly, gathered for a photo before Peter, right, cut into the cake.

Cross country team looks good: coach

HHSS runners set for Port Hope meet

by Jerry Grozelle

The cross country runners from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School have been running close to 40 kilometres a week in preparation for the coming competitions. Most of the practice has been at Haliburton's Glebe Park.

Coach Paul Morissette has high hopes that some of the local athletes can make the OFSAA (Ontario Federation of School Athletic Associations) championships. Last year was the first time the Haliburton High School had athletes participating at OFSAA. Morissette is confident that HHSS will be represented again.

The runners will have their first taste of competition this week. They will travel to Port Hope for an exhibition meet at Trinity College.

Morissette is pleased with the turnout of runners, especially in light of the fact that cross country running doesn't have the high profile of football, soccer or field hockey.

"Football is the king sport for boys this time of year," he said. "And field hockey is popular for the girls."

He said that those more popular sports reduce the number of cross country participants.

"We have 25 to 30 kids out," Morissette said. "Almost enough for a four-person team in every division."

There are more girls than boys participating, mainly, Morissette speculates, because girls have fewer sports from which to choose.

Morissette says a few of the newcomers are showing some real promise. He singled out Blaine Saunders in the midget boys' division and Katherine Hagerman from the midget girls' class. He's also expecting good performances from returning runners Caitlin Pettit and Stephanie Ratz, both junior girls.

In the junior boys' division, Morissette says two runners to watch are Ron Pettit and Danny Wright.

Danny's brother Jeff Wright is expected to do well in the senior boys' races.

In competition, the girls run three, four or five kilometres, depending on the age group. Boys run five, six or seven kilometres.

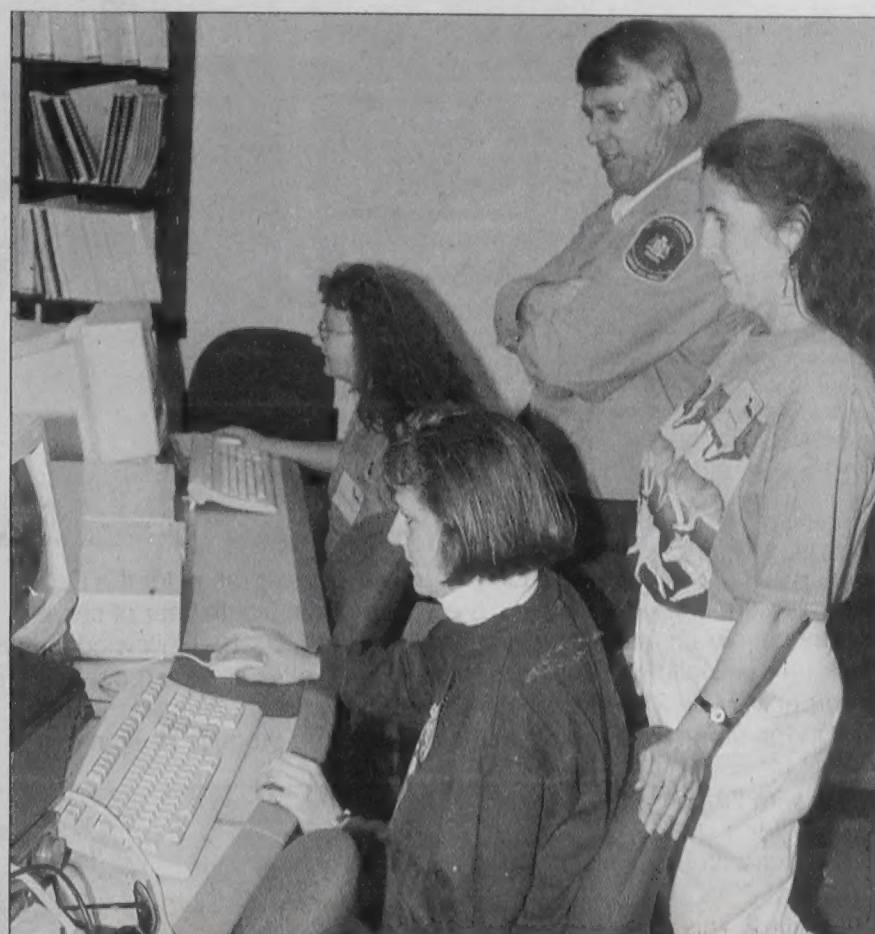

No matter how well the HHSS cross country runners perform in competition, Morissette says it is a great sport to keep the participants fit.

"Running even 25 to 30 kilometres a week keeps them in pretty good shape," he said.

Haliburton will conduct its own competition early in October. It will be for HHSS athletes only.

Morissette said it is hard to get teams from other areas to come to Haliburton to compete, especially when they can go to Peterborough, or some place closer to home. He says budget restraints are the big factor. It is expensive to bus the athletes from Lindsay or Peterborough, or farther away, to Haliburton for a meet.

"We're expected to go there to compete, though," he said.

Computer fishing?

One of the activities on the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman agenda at the Frost Centre this past weekend was Critters on Computer, fish and wildlife software program. Gisele Cyr tries her luck at computer fishing while Pat Tamosetis offers encouragement. Instructor Tom Purdy offers tips on choosing lures and other equipment and Marilyn Mumby (back) practices her computer casting skills.

Organizers prepare for Terry Fox Run

The 16th annual Terry Fox Run for Cancer Research will take place on Sunday, September 22, with runs planned for Minden and Haliburton.

Jerry and Kim Campbell are co-chairs of Minden's Terry Fox Run. Their son Judd is a leukemia survivor. Judd was last year's Terry Fox Team Member.

Everybody seems to be geared up for it this year," Kim Campbell said.

Several local businesses have donated prizes for participants in the run. As owners of the Minden Subway Sandwich franchise, the Campbells are participating in the prize give-aways by providing food prizes, including a party sub for the person who raises the most in pledges.

Although there are several volunteers helping with the organization of the 1996 Terry Fox Run in Minden, Kim gives Linda Brandon a big vote of thanks for her dedication to the run. Linda is doing a large portion of the clerical and foot work for the campaign.

"She's just wonderful," Kim said. "If I didn't have her support it wouldn't be as well organized. She really goes that extra mile."

More than 4,000 communities across Canada are expected to celebrate the 16th Annual Terry Fox Run for Cancer Research, this coming Sunday.

Over the past 15 years, the Terry Fox Run in Ontario alone has raised close to $36.4-million.

The number of run sites and participants weren't recorded in 1981, but the figures jumped from 199 run sites in 1982 to 1,045 in 1995 and from 75,000 participants in 1982 to 300,000 in 1995.

"Cancer has touched the lives of so many of us," said Martha McClew, Ontario Director of the Terry Fox Foundation. "People participate not only to honour Terry's achievements but also for more personal reasons, such as the loss of a loved one. With the advances being made in cancer research, there is every reason to believe that the funds raised by our wonderful participants are truly making a difference."

In 1995, Ontario raised a record $4.3-million. All funds are allocated by the National Cancer Institute of Canada.

You don't have to be a runner to participate in the Terry Fox Run. It is not a competition, but a fundraiser. People walk, jog, and roller blade, among other methods of getting from one place to another.

Minden's run will get started between 8 and 10 a.m. at the Minden Community Centre. Pledge forms are available at several locations, including the Liquor Control Board outlet, Subway Sandwich and The Times.

Haliburton's run will start between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. from the Town Dock at Head Lake Park. For information about the Haliburton run, contact Andy Salvatori at 457-2100.

TERRY'S TEAM MEMBER: Nicky Armstrong of Ingoldsby is this year's Terry's Team Member for the Minden Terry Fox Run. The nine year-old is a leukemia survivor.

Supreme Court says Native people don't have unlimited commercial fishing rights Conservationists, including the 74,000 members of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters (OFAH), are breathing a sigh of relief following a Supreme Court decision on Aboriginal fishing rights.

In its ruling on Regina v. VanderPeet and its ruling on the Regina v. NTC Smokehouse Ltd., the highest court in the country clearly stated that Aboriginal People do not have unlimited rights to fish commercially. These rulings should end years of controversy and fears that fish stocks would be depleted by uncontrolled over-fishing.

For years, the OFAH has agreed with an earlier Supreme Court ruling (Sparrow) that conservation laws are valid infringements of Aboriginal rights.

The Supreme Court recognized Aboriginal rights to practice customs or traditions and that Native fishing for food, social and ceremonial purposes is an Aboriginal treaty right to some Native groups. However, there is no Aboriginal right to fish commercially, unless it can be proven the practice occurred prior to European contact.

The Supreme Court decision arose from cases of Native people illegally selling fish without a licence in British Columbia. Similar cases in Ontario are pending, including several in Belleville and Toronto, where six people face more than 80 charges.

"These decisions are a common-sense victory for conservation," says OFAH President Gerry Courtemanche. "You can not have unregulated commercial fishing and expect fish stocks to survive. Practical enforcement of conservation laws is now possible and we will be expecting the Ontario government and Aboriginal people to take appropriate action."

The August 21 decision should encourage the Ontario government to re-establish control over the unregulated commercial fishery in Georgian Bay and settle the long-standing dispute with Native anglers in the area.

Police harvest $1/2-M marijuana crop, seek info about growers

Investigations by members of the Ontario Provincial Police Central East Drug Enforcement Unit, Crime Unit and members of the amalgamated Coboconk/Minden Detachments have resulted in the location and seizure of marijuana plants in the north Victoria and Haliburton County areas.

OPP officials set the estimated value of the seized plants at half a million dollars.

Anyone who has information regarding this illegal drug related activity is encouraged to contact the OPP or Crimestoppers.

Earlier this month, police officials executed a search warrant at a property in Somerville Township east of Coboconk.

A quantity of marijuana plants with an estimated street value of $100,000 was seized.

Donald Bates, 58, of Burnt River and Anthony Sims, 51, of Haliburton were arrested and charged with cultivation of narcotics and possession for the purpose of trafficking. Bates also faces charges relating to the possession of narcotics and the unsafe storage of firearms.

Talks continue around stationing ambulance staff at hospital

by Andrew Milne

Health board executive director, Foster Loucks, said last week that he expects to pursue the possibility of stationing ambulance attendants at Minden Hospital.

"I think that all parties are interested in doing so," Loucks said. But let me add to that I didn't leave those discussions with a whole lot of optimism... What I found discouraging about it was, in spite of there being local agreement, the local people don't call the shots on this. When you're talking about the unions... on some issues, the shots are called by the leadership in the head office."

Loucks made his comments in response to a question from a board member at last Friday's meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board. He added that he does not intend by his comments to criticize the unions or their structure, but that he isn't sure at this stage where negotiations should begin.

Loucks, with the approval of the board, was negotiating with local union members over a plan to station ambulance attendants at the Minden Hospital, and have nursing staff on call. The intention was to keep the Minden Hospital emergency ward open 24 hours, at reduced cost.

Administration brought the plan to the unions with around a week left before the date of implementation. Unions representing the nurses balked at making such a decision with such speed.

The Minden facility remains open 24 hours a day, and registered practical nurses on staff will see hours reduced. There will, however, still be a registered nurse on duty through the night.

Hospital staff, alongside other commentators, has criticized the cuts as unfair, considering service reductions the site has already sustained. The hospital's in-patient ward has already been closed.

Snowbirds: some things to consider before heading south

Are you going south this winter or taking a vacation? Here are a couple of important reminders to add to your check list.

Check the expiry date of your vehicle ownership and driver's licence. Fines for out of date licences can be costly and time consuming when crossing borders on your return home.

The Ministry of Transportation sends renewal notices approximately two months before the expiry date on your licence. You can renew upon receipt of your renewal notice at any Ministry of Transportation licence outlet. There are provisions for advance renewals, renewing six months prior to the due date. However, advance renewals can only be processed through the Ministry of Transportation Driver Education Centre.

A licence can be renewed by mail or by a person other than the licence holder., providing no photo is required and the licence holder has signed the renewal form.

Notify the insurance agent who provides your home owner's policy and automobile policy of your plans to be away. Most home insurance policies have very strict guidelines; make sure you know what they are. Your policy may stipulate that you must have home checks made at regular intervals while you are away. It may dictate that failure to notify your agent when you are away nullifies your coverage or even terminates your policy.

Check with your agent regarding exactly what your automobile insurance coverage is and if it is adequate for the area you will be travelling in. If you are renting a car, don't assume that your automobile insurance coverage will be acceptable with the leasing company.

Do you have a question that needs answering? Do you require support or assistance in assessing services? We can help. Contact the Haliburton County Information Centre Inc. The Centre is located in Haliburton Village on Maple Avenue in the Drag River Building. Phone 705-457-2733 Monday to Friday 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

In Minden the Centre is located in the Court House Building adjacent to the Anson, Hindon and Minden Municipal Office. It is open Mondays only, from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The Minden telephone number is 286-4100.

Tom Prentice to install engineered concrete pad

Tom Prentice has been awarded the contract to install the engineered concrete pad at the County Town Museum site in preparation for the relocation of the old Fred Wright house. Prentice's bid was the lowest submitted for the project.

Total cost of moving the house from its present location near the Minden Cemetery is estimated at $16,000.

Rugged Highlands featured prominently in new show

The opening of Stanley Fulford's exhibition, The Four Season Collection, at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, drew enthusiastic comments from the large crowd in attendance. The opening was held Saturday afternoon.

Fulford's works in oils, using a palette knife and brush to capture the scene. The paintings on display include downtown city scenes and evocative Highlands landscapes.

The use of the knife adds a rugged, textured feel to his work and draws the viewer into the painting. Details lost in the coarse interpretations are completed by the observer as he explores the work.

Fulford, who just turned 80 several days ago, has been painting for 45 years. He and his wife Joy have been cottaging here since 1970 when they purchased a property on Horseshoe Lake. His connection to the Highlands actually goes back to the mid 30's when his father brought the family to Twelve Mile Lake on fishing expeditions.

The Fulfords split their time between an apartment in Toronto and the cottage. He has a studio in both locations so he can continue to paint year-round.

Fulford works from photographs he takes of scenes that appeal to him. Whenever he travels, he always has a camera with him.

He admits that some of the personal ambience of the scene is lost by working from a photograph, but considering the nature of the medium and the rough nature of some of the locations, it would be difficult, if not impossible to complete the painting on the scene. The weather, temperature, insects and terrain are all factors which make working in a studio an inviting alternative.

Fulford is a Toronto native. He studied art at several city high schools and the Ontario College of Art before working for the Toronto Telegram and, following the war, with advertising agencies and commercial art studios.

His long association with the Highlands and his love for the area is evident in the many paintings which feature the rugged landscapes of the Canadian Shield.

The show continues at the gallery until October 6.

The Four Seasons Collection will be on display during the 1996 Haliburton County Studio Tour. (The Agnes Jamieson Gallery is one of the host galleries for the weekend) A portion of the gallery space also includes displays from some of the artists taking part in the tour.

The oil paintings of Stanley Fulford are featured at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery until October 6.

A banker's son bragged that his father makes $85 hour just sitting at a desk. "So?" answered the lawyer's son. "My father talks for an hour and makes $150". "That's nothing," retorted the minister's child. "My father preaches for an hour and it takes 4 men to collect the money".

The "New Beginnings" bereavement group have started up again after the summer rest break and plan to meet socially at noon, Thursday, September 19 in the Village Chalet Restaurant, Main Street, Minden. For more information, please call Doris Grant at 286-2482.

The Peterborough and District Head Injury Association will be holding its annual general meeting on Thursday, September 26 at 7:30 p.m. at 77 Towerhill Road in the Community room. For more information, please call 705-741-1172.

You might find this hard to believe but Betty and Ken Hardy are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday September 21. Congratulations to you both!

Television is called a medium because it is neither rare nor well done.

Two dozen Stanhope seniors tennis players enjoyed a garden party last week at the home of Dale and Wanda Anthes. Lawn games and tractor rides to the "top of the world" overlooking Maple Lake, not to mention the feast and tall stories, made for a fun-filled afternoon and evening. Seniors tennis is going strong Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 9 a.m. Come out or call 754-3457.

The winners of the M.A.P.S.A. (Police Support) 50-50 draw held on August 31 were Warren Shaddock - $150, Faye Swift - $100 and Gary Nelson - $50. These lucky folks are all from Minden and have Stu Brandon to thank for pulling their names out of the hat.

Visiting with Florence Robinson last weekend were son Bradley and family from Toronto. The family got together for a great meal at the home of Jack and Janice Shaw then had a family visit with Edna Morgan and her family.

The easiest way to have your family tree traced is to run for public office.

St. Paul's Friendship Club likes to get together most Mondays for some friendly euchre games. Last week, as a bonus, a 50-50 draw was held and won by Verna McDonald. Nora Briggs won the most lone hands and Iris Taylor and Gladys Wruth settled for the high score award. Join in their fun weekly at 1:30 p.m.

If you are a night owl and like to play euchre, then Club 35 is for you. They meet every Monday at 7:30 p.m. and partners are never required. Last week Milt Fletcher won their 50-50 draw and Kate Cline the most lone hands award. In addition, high scores went to Dorothy Walters and Lou Penick while low scores went to Mary Pipher and Wally Harpur. They handed out some special awards to Olive Daniels, Betty Culley, Stan Cline and Ken Wallace. I hope Ken's award was for the extra care and neatness that he provides me every week.

For a slightly different twist in cards we offer contract bridge. It is played every Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. in the Stanhope Firefighters Hall. Partners aren't needed. Last week Betty Schlotter was first, Betty Culley second and Lita Perrol third. Betty Schlotter had a really great day because not only did she hold 2 small slams with Betty Culley and Lita Perrol but it was her hubby's birthday and everyone got to enjoy a piece of birthday cake.

And then there is bid euchre. The seniors gang play it every Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Minden Legion. Last week the high score award went to Gala Stamp, Pat Rousselle and Jean Scadden while Ann Baker received the hidden score. They had 2 moonshots held by Bev Johnson and Ida Young.

On Wednesdays at 7 p.m. bid euchre continues in the Stanhope Firefighters Hall and last week Pat Scadden had the lead with 301, Ken Wallace 299, Mary Pearson 287, Edith Burch 269, Muriel Harrington 267 and Marion Farr 259. There were 2 moonshots.

Euchre is also played each and every Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the Minden Legion. On September 5 they announced a bevy of winners: Ida Young and Pat Scadden most lone hands; Helen Lee and Vina Dredge high score; Betty Harper and Sonny Kellett low score. Other prizes were left over for Iris Taylor, Truman McNeil, Jean Scadden and Jessie Preston.

HEALTH CORNER

Many Canadians are overweight as a result of too much food and too little exercise. Did you know that improper diet will eventually lead to chronic fatigue and depression? A well-balanced diet, as recommended in the Canada Food Guide, is particularly important for all around fitness. Although regular physical activity alone doesn't offer a short-term solution to weight control, it does offer a long-term solution to the creeping obesity (plus 3 pounds per year syndrome) that threatens most people.

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our family, friends and relatives who attended a wonderful surprise 40th Anniversary Party held in our honour August 24 at our home in Minden. Thank you for all the cards, flowers, gifts, donations of food and the extra help our children received from the beginning to end to make our day a tremendous success. We'd like to extend a special thank you to Nancy Hutchinson and Irma and Dorothy Walker for the extra help and support given to the girls. It was a great surprise to have our son Lorne, his wife Leslie and our grandson Dustin down from Dryden to celebrate such a special day. It was one we will all fondly remember. We would also like to express our sincere gratitude to Mary and Karen and their families for their love and devotion and the great deal of time spent on everything, their dedication shown to us will be cherished in our hearts always.

Thank you very much.
Oswald and Maxine Snell.

The family of the late Lyle McKnight would like to say THANK YOU! Especially to Lyle's lifelong friends and family who were so supportive when he had his stroke in 1985. They were there for him making his disability bearable. Special thanks to the ambulance drivers, nurses and doctors at the Minden Hospital. What would we have done without them! Also, to Dr. William Hughes, nurses and Dr. Stelzer of Peterborough Civic Hospital who were with Lyle to the end. They all were compassionate professionals, I will always remember them.

A sincere thank you for the support offered through visits, telephone calls, prayers, floral tributes, cards, food, and memorial donations to the Minden Hospital Building Fund and the Heart & Stroke Foundation. Thank you to the efficient caring family and staff of the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home.

We will always remember the service for "The Celebration of Lyle's Life" held at the Minden United Church, the choir's Anthem, Murray Fearney's eulogy, the hymns and the uplifting comforting words of our dear friend Rev. Peter Walford-Davis, the ladies of our UCW for the abundant luncheon they provided. We were so proud of the glowing tributes to Lyle in the Minden Times and the Haliburton County Echo. Thank you Jack, Martha and Len. We are truly blessed to live in such a loving, caring community!

THANK YOU to everyone who helped in our medical emergency Saturday, August 31 at our cottage on Peterson Road W., Twelve Mile Lake. Situations like this make you appreciate having a functioning hospital in the area.

Andre & Faye, (J-Kaloo's)

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTON - In loving memory of a husband and father, Ellwood, who passed away September 12, 1985.

To your resting place we visit
Place flowers with love and care
But no one knows the heartache
When we turn and leave you there.

So keep your arms around him
Lord,

And give him special care
Make up for all he suffered
And all that seemed unfair.
Sadly missed by wife Ruby and family.

BULL - In loving memory of my dear husband Stuart who died September 18, 1980 and our dear son Lorne who died December 31, 1992.

O happy hours we once enjoyed
How sweet your memories still,
Their deaths have left a loneliness

The world can never fill.
With tender love and deep regret
We who love you will never forget.

Sadly missed by your loving wife and mother Hazel, Lorraine, Lorna, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, relatives, friends and neighbours.
